Nazi Planes Rain Flames, Explosives In Six-Hour Raid

Whole Blocks Of Residences In London Are Blown To Bits, Docks Hit; RAF Strikes Back With Bombing Of Cologne

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, March 20.—Shops were demolished, homes were badly damaged and casualties were caused by a team of Nazi raiders on the southeast coast today as a trek of homeless began from an area of London scarred in the capital's worst nocturnal pounding this year.

Two German bombers dived from the clouds in a hit-and-run attack on a southeast coast town just after four Messerschmitts had plummeted out of a hazy sky and raked a number of small fishing boats with their machine-guns.

From the London area worst hit in last night's six-hour raid flowed a stream of perambulators and small carts loaded with salvaged belongings as of the homeless.

Blocks Blown To Bits

Whole blocks of residences were blown to bits, five hospitals were in a large hotel was partly destroyed and public services were in a large of gear.

Many fires, big and small, were started by thousands of incendiary bombs, and the flames were used as targets for demolition bombs dropped later.

One large department store was burned out and bombs injured several firemen who were trying to extinguish the blaze.

Seven persons were killed in one building.

The overnight assault was the British capital's most violent raid since 1941.

The great Victoria and Albert and King George VI docks were destroyed as scenes of "the heaviest destruction," two gas tanks were blown up, and a ship in the Thames was set afire.

London dispatches said five hospitals were hit; a large hotel was badly destroyed; public services were disrupted; a police station was blasted apart, two policemen being killed, and a whole block of residences was wrecked by two high-explosive bombs.

Victims Still Trapped

Many bodies were recovered from the rubble of a bomb-smashed public shelter, and in many sections, debris was reported still trapped under the debris this morning.

Whole buildings were split apart by heavy-caliber explosives dropped by the raiders, who used a new "counter" technique—sending a lone plane loaded with incendiaries to hit a target area, then following it with 10 to 20 planes with heavy explosive bombs.

British RAF bombers struck back with an attack on the German industrial city of Cologne, in the Rhineland, where the air ministry reported "several factories were hit."

One large building was seen to collapse under the impact of heavy bombs.

GOVERNMENT STUDIES NEXT DRAFT PLANS

Quiet Preparations Being Made For Second Registration Day

EXPECT MILLION MORE AVAILABLE

National Guards Will Be Demobilized After Year's Service

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 20.—Quiet advance preparations are being made for a second selective service registration day, although only a small percentage of the 16,404,900 men who enrolled last October have been put in uniform.

The second registration would be for men who have reached their 21st birthday since last October 16. By this time, it is held, possibly in the late summer or early fall, between 1,000,000 and 1,250,000 will have come of age, population experts figure, and thus will be subject to military service.

Selective service headquarters officials said today only general consideration had been given thus far to the next registration, but advance studies were being made.

Of more immediate urgency, however, were proposals pending in congress to alter the draft ages substantially, as a transition toward eventual adoption of the European plan of universal military service of men automatically as they reach a specific age, such as 21.

Instead of requiring the registration of all men between 21 and 35, inclusive, the American Legion has sponsored a bill to limit military service liability to men between 18 and 25.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—A high army authority disclosed today that, barring the gravest emergency, the war department had decided to demobilize national guard units upon completion of their year in federal service.

The same policy also will apply, it was said, to the thousands of men who have been or are to be inducted into the army for a year's training under the selective service act.

Reports have circulated in recent weeks that the guard's active service might be extended six months.

OHIO C OF C WARNS AGAINST SURPLUS

Wisdom of Promising Tax Reduction Questioned By Organization

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, March 20.—The Ohio Chamber of Commerce warned the Bricker administration today it might not be "smart politics" to pile up a treasury surplus with the objective of reducing taxes in 1942.

The chamber, opposing re-enactment of the one-cent-a-gallon liquor tax for two years, said the present financial program would produce a surplus of approximately 16,000,000 next year.

The Democratic minority in the legislature has charged that Gov. John W. Bricker deliberately underestimated 1941-42 state revenues so he would call the general assembly back in 15 months hence and reduce taxes to further his 1942 political ambitions.

"Not Enough Reductions"

"When and if this special session comes," the house taxation committee was told last night by George B. Chandler, executive vice president of the chamber, "everybody will want their taxes reduced. There will not be enough reductions to go around. You are liable to make more political enemies than friends."

Chandler recommended a one-year extension of the liquor fuel tax which, he said, would permit a treasury surplus of $4,800,000. Governor Bricker estimates the levy will yield $13,800,000 this year.

The taxation committee rejected an amendment to limit the extension to one year. Tax Commissioner William S. Evans said it would throw the budget out of balance.

The committee also voted down proposals to give $5,900,000 of the liquor fuel revenue to the local governments and to earmark all the yield for highway construction. The proceeds now go into the general revenue fund.

Besides Dykstra, the members named are William Hammett Davis, chairman of the New York state mediation board; Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina; George Meany, general secretary of the A. F. of L.; George M. COUNTY SHARE OF FAIRMOUNT COST PAID 8 PER CENT

Protest On 40-60 Expense Rate Gets Reduction To 32 Per Cent

LISBON, March 20.—A decreased rate, whereby Columbiana county will contribute 32% rather than 40% of the total maintenance of the jointly operated fairmount Children's home near Alliance, was established at a meeting of the Columbiana and Stark county commissioners in the office of the local board Wednesday afternoon.

Supt. R. E. George, trustee of the home, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney McLaughlin of Canton, County Auditor Ross Tisher and Prosecutor Frank W. Springer, were also present at the session.

Action toward revising the rate came when Auditor Ross Tisher withheld payment of a statement for installation of new boilers, stoker, electric pump and water softener at the institution on the basis of the 40-60% rate which had long been in effect, but which he termed excessive in view of the number of children from this county cared for in the institution, and on a comparison of the assessed property valuations of the two counties.

CHECK PRINTS IN BURGLARIES HERE

Andrew Arnold, E. Pershing St., Joseph Arthur Homes Entered

Police checked fingerprints today as clues in burglaries at two homes Wednesday night.

Thieves gained access to the home of Andrew Arnold, 1274 E. Pershing st., by going through a dining room window. Reported missing were three $20 bills, $5 in nickels, about $4 in small change, a yellow gold wrist watch, a 32 calibre Colt automatic, one pair of diamond ear rings and five packs of cigarettes.

The house was entered sometime between 6:15 p. m. and 1 a. m. today. Patrolman Paul Ormsby was informed.

Joseph Arthur of 1134 Oak st., told Patrolman James Hassey that his house was entered and ransacked between 5:30 and 10:15 p. m. by burglars who unlocked a rear door.

Articles stolen included a wrist watch, a ladies' watch, 18 cents in change and several other pieces of jewelry, including rings.

CAPACITY AUDIENCES SEEN FOR JUNIORS' PLAY

The "Standing Room Only" signs are expected to be hung out early for the Junior class play, "Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair," which the students will present tonight and Friday in the High school auditorium.

A few good seats remain for tonight's performance, but Principal H. M. Williams announced that all tickets for tomorrow evening's presentation have been sold.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8:15.

The play, a dramatization of the beloved American composer, Stephen Foster, was written and will be directed by Miss Viola Bodo, dramatics instructor at Salem High.

Mary Lou Cope and Donald Rice are cast in the leading roles of "Jeannie" and Foster. Costumes worn by members of the cast are traditionally southern.

Music will be furnished by the High school orchestra.

PLAN NEW FLOOD WALL

WELLSVILLE, March 20.—United States army engineers at Pittsburgh will advertise April 1 for bids for construction of a $140,000 secondary Ohio River flood wall here, municipal officials said today.

The government previously erected a $450,000 dike.

200 Seized in Cleveland

A survey showed that Cleveland police seized and held about 200 of the machines. To date the law department has refused to release them. A Cleveland licensing ordinance was invalidated by the supreme court a year ago.

At Toledo the city officers derive about $50,000 annually under a licensing plan which has not yet been attained successfully. Toledo derives another $100,000 a year from fining "numbers" racketeers—a source of revenue so accepted that the budget carries an item for it.

Pinball operators in Marion county have until Saturday to eliminate the machines under an edict from Sheriff J. W. Harroff.

Slot machines, on the other hand, appeared to cause only minor concern at most points.

Youngstown, never overrun with the devices, reported even less activity.

STATE'S PIN-BALL GAMES ON WAY OUT

Various Ohio Cities Move To Outlaw Marble Boards Entirely

(By Associated Press)
Although still viewed variously as both a bane and a blessing, pin-ball machines—those fascinating little gadgets which for a nickel reward their players with numerous sounds, a minor aura borealis and sometimes cash in the bargain—appeared today to be on their way out of Ohio.

Spurred by a recent supreme court decision that the City of Youngstown had no authority to license marble boards as a source of revenue, several cities have moved to outlaw the devices entirely.

CONCILIATORS TO COOPERATE WITH NEW UNIT

Regional Meetings Called To Discuss Labor Disputes

NATIONAL DEFENSE WORK IS STRESSED

Carnegie-Illinois Chieftain Confers With Philip Murray Today

(By Associated Press)
The United States conciliation service moved quickly today to cooperate with the national defense mediation board appointed by President Roosevelt to compose differences between labor and management in defense industries.

John R. Steelman, director of the service which is a unit of the labor department, announced the division's 110 conciliators would gather next week-end in regional meetings to discuss pending labor disputes.

Harmony Is Goal

Steelman said his division was "determined to assist labor and industry in maintaining harmonious relations to insure the free and uninterrupted flow of work and materials in the interest of national defense."

Such are the broad aims of the board named yesterday by Mr. Roosevelt. Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin and director of the selective service system, was appointed chairman. There are two other representatives of the public, and four each of labor and industry.

The new board will step in when and if the conciliation service fails to bring about an agreement in a given dispute. The board has no power to compel agreements, but is authorized to investigate, recommend settlements, and make public its findings.

Aside from formation of the new board, there were a number of important developments in the defense labor situation.

Discuss Steel Wages

President Philip Murray of the CIO, acting in his capacity as chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, arranged to meet at Pittsburgh today with J. Lester Perry, president of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, to discuss union demands for a wage increase of 10 cents an hour and other changes in the SWOC contract with United States Steel corporation. Carnegie-Illinois is a subsidiary of U. S. Steel.

This meeting signaled that the existing contract had formally been reopened. Unless an agreement is reached otherwise by March 1, the contract automatically will be terminated. Some steel sources suggested privately that the matter might be checked to the new defense mediation board.

COUNTY BREEDERS TO INSPECT FARMS

The annual Holstein Breeder's tour, sponsored by the Columbiana County Holstein Breeder's association in cooperation with the agricultural extension service, will be held Wednesday, March 26. The tour will start at 9:30 a. m. at the Isaly dairy farm in North Jackson. Holstein breeders from Columbiana county will meet at the Isaly farm and, after seeing the herd there, will go to the farm of Lamarr Young at Mineral Ridge.

Following luncheon at Warren, the group will visit the Trumbull county herd, learn about their hay feeding experiments and see their grassland farming and alfalfa-timothy mixtures grown on the Trumbull farm.

C. D. McGraw, agricultural agent from Trumbull county, Mr. Ivey, manager of the farm, and the veterinarian in charge of an artificial insemination work will be present at the experiment farm to explain the work being done there. All Holstein breeders and others interested in Holsteins are invited to attend this tour. The tour is an annual event on the calendar of the Holstein breeders.

TEMPORARY SO-WHATTING

Americans may never see a German commerce raider in the western Atlantic. But they can see what it would mean. The British aid policy ultimately will spread the war into the new world. Americans haven't forgotten that Canada already is at war with Germany.

The United States is pledged to keep Great Britain in the war. That is its policy. Germany is pledged to knock Great Britain out of the war. Destruction of Great Britain is Germany's policy. "No power and no support coming from any part of the world can change the outcome of this battle in any respect," said Reichsfuehrer Hitler in his latest speech. "England will fall."

Here is an irreconcilable conflict of national wills. Italy, whose bark is worse than its bite and which therefore usually barks first, says in its controlled press that a state of war already exists between the United States and the Axis. Even the gagged German press is beginning to hint to its readers that the Nazi regime has steered them close to another collision with the United States.

The free press in the United States, for a different reason, has been saying that the United States is engaged in an undeclared war and will not declare war until and unless the opposition makes it plain that there is no alternative. The American press has been saying this because it believes that is the way a majority of Americans want the thing to be done. The United States should not yield to the aggressors at any point; it should give all possible aid to Great Britain; it should fight the instant its interests are attacked directly.

The current so-whattling stage of the war in all probability is temporary. War is a conflict of national wills taking a violent form. The conflict is inherent in the conflicting policies of the United States and Germany. If Germany wants to bring the conflict to the explosion stage, it can start to raid commercial shipping in the western Atlantic. That is one of several ways it can precipitate war—if it wants war.

MR. SLOAN'S LINIMENT

What is going to happen to Alfred P. Sloan Jr.'s suggestion for putting a lid on expansion of consumer purchasing power by special excise taxes on certain goods shouldn't happen to the report of a face-saving commission in politics. Mr. Sloan has overlooked an important point.

For instance, if it became necessary to discourage purchase of automobiles to avert a conflict with the needs of national defense and the government made ability to buy a car depend on ability to bear a heavy tax, the howl of anguish could be heard all the way to Berbera, or wherever it is the Italians were getting licked yesterday.

In the United States, an automobile is a God-given right, like driving it down the middle of the road. Any move that seemed to deprive anyone of the pleasures of locomotion by internal combustion while granting them to someone with more money—and in the name of national defense to boot—would be provocation for another Boston tea party. If Mr. Sloan thinks the time may come when automobile production will have to be curtailed for national defense, he may as well get ready now to ration the supply on a basis of need, not ability to meet the payments.

THIS IS WHERE WE CAME IN

In the report of the national resources planning board, recommending a huge works plan to meet national needs after the current crisis, appears an offhand remark that's hard to read in an offhand manner.

"Development of a strong, vigorous and healthy economy represents an essential phase of preparation for total national defense," the board explains. "Total war of our time has reverted to the ancient forms of tribal war and siege in which whole populations were involved, with all their resources affected and at stake."

A lot of saps almost had convinced themselves that their generation at least was ingenious enough to think up something new in horror, but even that was giving the moderns too much the best of it. It's just another case of sticking around to see the show and going out at the same place where you came in. Even at waging war, home sapiens is none too sapiens. All that remains is to discover that the tribesmen also planned public works projects to ease the thumping of aching heads after the war boom.

Dearest Jesus, we would cling to Thee as our only Master in this life, and as our one satisfying guide into the life beyond, since Thou alone hast the words of eternal life. We thank Thee that Thou art the King of our lives, who by precept and example hast taught us that the way of the cross is the road to the crown. THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, March 21

A DAY of exceptional good fortune, prosperity, progress and happiness is forecast from the very auspicious positions of major planets. There may be swift-moving events, culminating in surprising denouements, with gain, increase and expansion in worldly affairs and with stirring adventures in the emotional life, based on sudden change and far-reaching and dramatic episodes in the romantic, intellectual and spiritual life. The thrills and excitement of such occurrences should not be nullified or complicated by rash, impulsive or ill-tempered moods or indulgences. Renew business contracts, compose litigation.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be on the eve of a year of outstanding adventure, with dramatic moments of keen enjoyment both in business and emotional life. Romance is at hand, with sudden change, surprising and far-reaching effect on the future and its fortunes. This operates in the intellectual and spiritual life, while in material things there is increased property values, successful litigation. It is a most propitious time for renewing any form of contract. However, impetuosity, recklessness or turbulent conduct might negate these most favorable auguries.

A child born on this day should have outstanding ability in many lines of endeavor, business, professional and intellectual, with much creative ability in progressive forms. Romance and adventure loom large in this spectacular life.

SEES "GREAT DANGER"

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Representative Jones (R-Ohio) described to the house a "great danger" faced by members of congress opposed to a $7,000,000,000 appropriation for the lease-lend program.

"The danger that comes is the kind of danger that always accompanies our getting embroiled in a war and has its impact on anybody who disagrees with the government in power. That impact leads to riots and to picketing in front of the homes of congressmen who dare to speak in opposition.

"I know full well the sacrifice I shall make in opposing this bill if we are heralded into war, but I would rather be tortured, be shot down on this spot today than do anything that would harm the interests of the United States."

He charged extravagance on the part of government agencies and declared approval of the appropriation would give the "racketeers" seven billion more "to chisel." He expressed sympathy for Britain but said security ought to be demanded for loans.

Plans Discussed
For New Sidewalks

COLUMBIANA, March 20.—Council held a short session Tuesday evening at the city hall to discuss plans for a new sidewalk project. Property owners who have homes on improved streets and are interested in new sidewalks are to contact Charles B. Fuhrman who will make the necessary arrangements.

Council granted permission to George Hart, town truck driver, to work for the board of public affairs to fill the vacancy caused by Harold Winegard, who has been drafted. A letter was read from Ray Harrold asking council to cooperate with him in relaying and improving his sidewalk. The walk was taken up at the time the street was widened in front of his home and has not been satisfactory since.

Griffen, Mrs. Herbert Schlag and Miss Willis Carpenter was appointed to report at the next meeting at which time the annual election of officers will be held.

King and was as follows: Group of numbers by the school orchestra; group by Girls Glee club, basson solos by David Culp accompanied by Amelia Culp; vocal solo by Gloria Martin accompanied by Anna Mary Shontz; tuba solo by Ted Detweiler accompanied by Amelia Culp and closing group by the school band.

MORE CONCERNING DIABETES

Insulin Discovery Changes Treatment Method

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

In 1922 one of the most dramatic discoveries that was ever made in medicine was announced, when a group of workers at the University of Toronto stated that they had been able to isolate from the pancreas a substance which they called "insulin," which burned sugar out of the blood both in normal people and in diabetics. This substance is undoubtedly the chemical which is absent from the pancreatic secretion of diabetics, and which causes their inability to utilize starch as much as normal people.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The discovery changed the entire method of treating diabetes. Before that time, severe cases had to be kept upon an extremely strict diet, which kept them continuously uncomfortable, hungry, thin and on the very verge of coma. With the hypodermic injection of insulin it was possible to burn the excess sugar which appeared in the blood of the diabetic with mathematical accuracy so that the diet could be increased and the diabetic patient put on weight and otherwise became far more comfortable.

The only objections to insulin were that it had to be given hypodermically instead of by mouth and that its effect wore off in quite a short time. The first objection has never been overcome. It is still necessary for the diabetic to take insulin hypodermically but by the use of a chemical formula for diabetes known as protamine zinc insulin, it is possible very largely to do away with the necessity of repeated injections. The average diabetic nowadays takes one injection of protamine zinc insulin, usually in the morning, and this is delivered to the tissues gradually and operates all through the day.

Use of Insulin

Those who treat a large number of diabetics have become very expert in the use of this protamine zinc insulin and have made a number of observations on its use which have been very helpful.

Diabetic patients differ individually just as other people do and it is not possible to predict exactly how much insulin any one person needs or will be able to take. Therefore, some adjustment has to be made and slight experimentation carried on before an equitable dosage is arrived at.

In general, according to one specialist on the subject, patients are either (1) insulin sensitive or (2) insulin resistant. The insulin sensitive patient is usually younger and has developed diabetes in childhood. The insulin resistant patient has developed diabetes after the age of 30 years; he is likely to be overweight and to have some high blood pressure. But these different forms of reaction do not impair the usefulness of the drug and it is quite easy with a little experimentation to decide in what class each individual belongs.

Protamine Zinc Insulin

Most physicians who have used both ordinary insulin and protamine zinc insulin believe their patients get along better with protamine zinc insulin. They are better controlled and insulin reactions are less frequent. These insulin reactions consist in a reaction of the body when the amount of blood sugar has been reduced beyond a certain level. The patient has trembling of all the muscles and rapid pulse, often profuse perspiration and a feeling of weakness.

The reactions, however, are very easily controlled by giving the patient a piece of candy, or sugar, or some orange juice, or in fact, any kind of starch, such as a cracker or a piece of bread, that happens to be handy. These reactions occur both with ordinary insulin and protamine zinc insulin when, for some reason or other, the insulin accumulates and the dosage is too large.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

M.T.:—"If you measure energy by calories, how much energy or calories are used up in walking a mile by a housewife? I say 'housewife' for I understand her ordinary work is more or less a habit and not exercise, but walking would be exercise."

Answer: It depends on the weight of the housewife; for a 150 pound person walking a mile uses up about 500 calories. There is no difference in the energy expended by muscular action whether it is in the form of habitual work or exercise.

H. M.:—"I have had bronchitis for a number of years. In spite of this I am enjoying good health. The only time I suffer is when I catch cold. Is there any chance of bronchitis developing into a more serious disease?"

Answer—Chronic bronchitis is essentially a chronic disease which has periods of exacerbation, which you describe as "catching cold." In my experience it does not "run DOCTORS stress remaining in bed until the body temperature is normal. Sound advice.

You know how weak you feel after a cold. Colds play havoc in weakening the body. The story is well told in the blood picture. It is important to build back body strength right away to carry the load of work, worries, and loss of sleep. A weakened body may be more susceptible to relapse or long drawn out recovery.

Hinds, Peggy Stewart and Nell "We don't Day."

The Fannie Hurst novel and Cosmopolitan story which appeared in 1932 becomes a fine emotion picture in the expert hands of the two stars, Director Robert Stevenson and Story Writers Bruce Manning and Felix Jackson.

The period of the story covers the years between 1898 to 1930. Scenes are laid in Cincinnati, New York and Paris. Miss Sullivan is seen as Ray Smith, young Ohio girl who becomes a famous designer and then gives up a successful career for the man she once planned to marry.

A whirlwind courtship ends in separation for the two, but meeting some years later, they find they are still in love. Although he is married they renew their love affair and through the years they remain together when his business and family will permit it.

NAZIS CLAIM BIG LOSSES IN RAIDS

BERLIN, March 20.—The German high command declared today that 66,000 tons of shipping had been sunk in continuing attacks on Britain's line of supply and that strong units of the Luftwaffe had blasted dock facilities and other targets in London in a violent night assault.

Informal sources said the six-hour raid was "unprecedented and far exceeded Coventry". Hundreds of planes were said to have participated, dropping about 10,000 incendiary bombs and many high explosive bombs on the capital.
In the attack on London last night, the high command said,
"harbor and dock facilities were especially heavily bombed with explosives and incendiaries of all sizes."

"Extensive fields of fire explosions visible for a great distance were observed," the communique continued. "Direct bomb hits were scored in factories northeast of the Thames bend. Merchant ships on the Thames were set afire."
The Royal Victoria, Royal Albert and King George V. docks were listed among the targets.

COUNTY SHARE OF HOME COST PARED

Protest On 40-60 Expense Rate Gets Reduction To 32 Per Cent

share in new and permanent improvements also emerged from the session, with the cost to be borne on a 20-80 scale in the future, and the per capita maintenance of 32-68% rather than the straight 40-60% basis as in the past.

The controversy yesterday hinged on the payment of bills amounting to $23,108 for the installation of the new equipment. Stark county contending the same was installed as repairs and that this county should contribute on the higher rate, while Columbiana county officials insist the materials are new improvements under which this county would pay but 20% of the cost.

The matter will be definitely decided when representatives of both boards go to Columbus Friday, March 28, to meet with Walter Garrison, county affairs representative of the state auditor's office, to determine the issue.

Faced with a greatly curtailed budget this year, county officials began delving for ways and means of cutting operating costs, and lopped off $14,023 from the children's home fund in appropriating $25,350 for this year's maintenance.

St. Lawrence Agreement Finds Some Opposition

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Some opposition developed in congress today against the freshly-signed U. S.-Canadian agreement to harness the St. Lawrence river for power and open its turbulent waters for navigation by ocean-going ships.

Most senators who successfully fought ratification of a St. Lawrence treaty submitted in 1934 were immediately critical of the new agreement, advocated by President Roosevelt as a vital defense move.

Senator Adams (D-Colo.) said that from a defense standpoint he could not see much immediate benefit in a project requiring four or five years to complete.

Declaring power was needed for defense industries, Senator Norris (Ind-Neb.) sided with the President and said the project would benefit the entire nation.

Senator George (D-Ga.), who voted against the treaty when it failed or ratification seven years ago, said the new agreement would have to be studied in relation to current plans for national defense and aid to Britain.

Those favoring the St. Lawrence project considered its chances enhanced by the fact that the agreement would come before congress in the form of legislation requiring only a majority vote in each house of congress, rather than as a treaty, which requires confirmation by two-thirds of the senate.

County Buys Auto

LISBON, March 20.—The sheriff's office added another car to its fleet today following a deal by the county commissioners.

The commissioners traded in an old machine which had been in use at the county home, obtained a 1941 model for themselves and gave a 1940 car, which they had been using, to the sheriff's department. The sheriff, in turn, gave to the county home an automobile which it had.

The expenditure in the purchase of the new vehicle was $600.

Dog Is Problem

CLEVELAND, March 20.—Lee Woods, blind refreshment stand proprietor, is awaiting Uncle Sam's reaction to listing his guide dog as a "business expense" on his income tax blank. CLEVELAND, March 20.—Dependency provisions of the Selective Service Act are expected to be tested in a suit brought by Charles G. Shimola, 25-year-old married bus driver, in an effort to avoid his scheduled army induction Friday.

Pinball machines, banned completely from the state capital several weeks ago, have made tentative reappearances in some establishments. The city has few slot machines, although the devices flourish in spots beyond the corporation line.

Spasmodic prosecution was reported in Cincinnati. Twenty-seven slot machines were seized in recent raids on three downtown private clubs.

LEASE-LEND BILL SENT TO SENATE

Appropriation Measure Of Seven Billion Gets Big House Majority

Great Britain all the aid provided under the bill.

May Not Offer New Plan

Taft informed reporters he might not even offer his proposal to cut the aid appropriation to $3,500,000 and limit its spending to the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1942.

However, Senator Clark (D-Mo.), one of Taft's colleagues in the lease-lend fight, announced he would vote against the appropriation. He charged that its enactment would double taxes in the next year.

The informal cloakroom opinion, meanwhile, was that the $7,000,000 fund would get senate approval by an even better margin than 60-21 vote registered for the lease-lend bill.

The house vote yesterday showed 231 Democrats, 104 Republicans and 1 Farm Laborite for the appropriation. Recorded against it were 8 Democrats, 45 Republicans, 3 Progressives and 1 American Laborite.

Ohio Court Declares Dividends Not Taxable

COLUMBUS, March 20.—Reversing state tax commissioner, William S. Ewalt, and the state board of appeals, the Ohio supreme court ruled yesterday that dividends paid from capital surplus accumulated by reduction of capital shares are not taxable as income.

The decision was made in an appeal by William J. Donkel, a stockholder in the Kent-Owens Machine Co. of Toledo.

The court decided to review Lucas county court decisions involving fair trade practices in which Leo Rayess sought to enjoin the Lane Drug Co. of Toledo from selling cigarettes under 16 cents a pack (two for 31) in violation of alleged agreements.

In other decisions the court: Decided that petitioners were insufficient in an effort by Charles J. Wehr and other taxpayers of the city of Bellevue to compel the city to submit an electric rate ordinance with the Ohio Public Service commission to a referendum; and or even a year, in view of world conditions. It was understood that some national guard officials favored this lengthening of the training period.

The war department has been studying the question for some time, in regard both to guardsmen and selective service trainees. Congressional approval would be necessary to extend the training periods.

The army's decision against requesting any extension in the service periods was because the primary purpose of the present peacetime defense preparations was to train as large a number of men as possible. Therefore, the land forces will be kept up to their intended strength of 1,418,000 men by the induction of fresh selective service quotas and additional three-year enlistments in the regular army.

The full strength of 1,418,000 will be reached in June, according to present plans. The army then will be composed of about 500,000 regulars, 300,000 to 375,000 guardsmen and 600,000 or more selective service trainees.

National guard units, making up 18 divisions, will begin reaching the end of their year's service next September and in the ensuing six months all should be demobilized, unless circumstances dictate a new decision.

WOTAN'S WEDGE

by FRANCIS GERARD
A PRELUDE TO BLITZKRIEG

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE
"I think, then, I will go away while he is here," the Princess told her father sadly.

"As you wish, Adelheid," But the following morning when Siegfried Klover was shown into the great drawing room, Adelheid von Reinhold rose from her chair to greet him. He stopped dead at sight of her and his ordinary pale face deepened in color and his eyes widened slightly. Then his customary veil of reserve fell across his face again.

"Guten Tag, Gnädige Gräfin," he said, thus paying her an immeasurable compliment in not giving her the Hitler greeting. "Good-day, Herr Klover," she responded. "You wish to see my uncle, of course."

"I have travelled from London to see His Excellency." The statement seemed flat, almost insulting. For a long moment, the girl's deep-blue eyes held the man's; then she smiled faintly and said, "Are you afraid of me, Herr Klover?"

Immediately Adelheid wished she had not asked that, for the man's face seemed to grow grayer and he was evidently extremely distressed. Suddenly, to her amazement, he declared, "Yes, Countess, I am.... afraid."

"But why, Siegfried?" she breathed. Neither of them noticed the use of his first name. He continued to hold her eyes with his and she found herself strangely breathless.

"I am afraid," he said quietly, "because you represent the untamable." Her hand went to her throat. "But why, Siegfried?" she asked softly. "We are not living in 1914 now. This is the Germany of 1939. We have lived through a revolution and are still living through it. Why am I... untamable? Today in Germany, as in Napoleon's France, all things are open to all men. You are to command the 'W' Brigade. Is that so small a thing, and for that service will you not receive recognition and great honor?"

Klover stared at the girl with his soul in his eyes, his whole being agonized as though it were lacerated and bleeding.... What he had alternately hoped for and dreaded had happened, the situation he had dreamt of was here and he could do nothing with it. Of all women in this world, Adelheid von Reinhold was the one to whom he could never speak the truth, nor could he hint at his inability to do so. He must remain true to himself and his people, remembering their awful suffering and their degradation, the atrocities, the misery and loneliness which had been.... and would be theirs.

No, no though his whole soul cried out to this girl and, though she stood before him ready to accept his love, he could not. As Siegfried stood before her, his face a mask, to hide the seething emotions with which he was torn, he forced himself deliberately to think of what this girl represented — Countess Adelheid von Reinhold, daughter of a von Etzen, niece of a von Wallenfels.... He looked at her deliberately recalling what she stood for and, watching him, the girl saw the dark eyes harden.... the next moment, with a murmured excuse, he bowed and left the room.

Von Wallenfels looked up from his desk at the door of his big study opened. Siegfried Klover walked into the room and, raising his right arm, said, "Heil Hitler!" The general made a slight upward gesture with his cigar as though he would throw the ash behind his shoulder, answering absently, "Heil Hitler."

Klover seated himself in a chair to which the other waved and waited for his superior to speak. Von Wallenfels leaned back in his chair, regarding the other for some moments in silence. Then leaning his elbows on the desk, he asked, "Is this Sir John Meredith matter serious?"

Klover hesitated a moment before replying. "As yet I have no definite information on the subject, Herr General. But you may rest assured that I will take great care of this Meredith."

"Nothing must leak out at this point," the General stated. "The first contingent of the Brigade will be ready to take up their duties next week. You will have made all necessary arrangements for their reception."

"Everything is prepared, Herr General."

"Good!" replied von Wallenfels. "The men are keen and are completing most rigorous examinations."

"You realize," Klover pointed out, "that they will have to get by the Zionists' Association?"

"Of course," nodded Prince Max. "But it will be your duty, Klover, to see that Colonel Weimer (perhaps I should say Mr. Igor Levin-sky) arranges that."

"We have our plans for that," Siegfried assured his commander. "And we are organizing a big meeting at which certain members of our corps will be present and will be given the opportunity to speak. By the way, you have provided me with some first-rate English speakers?"

"That has been attended to," said von Wallenfels. "The batch I am sending you, you may regard as the spearhead of the whole Brigade."

Max von Wallenfels leaned back in his chair, regarding the other shrewdly. His next question was unexpected and sent a tremor of anxiety along the other's spine.

"How long have you been a member of the Nazi Party, Klover?" The man's dark eyes flashed to his general's face and away again. "About four years I think it is now. I joined in Vienna."

"You were, then, one of the original members of the Party in Austria before she became incorporated in the Reich?"

"Certainly, Herr General. All my papers, which you have filed in the records of the Brigade, will confirm that."

"Doubtless, doubtless," replied the general absently. "Why do you ask, Herr General?" queried Klover, and waited with his heart in his mouth for the reply. When it came it did little to alleviate his anxiety.

"Only," said von Wallenfels slowly, "that you are an unusual type."

Siegfried regarded the other steadily, behind his impassive features, his brain working fast. There might be nothing ulterior in the General's questions, but if there were, he must do his best at once to kill any dawning suspicion.

His brain working frantically recalled certain rumors concerning General von Wallenfels and a reputed dislike for the National Socialism, how he served the Party only because the Party was Germany's Siegfried decided to risk it. Leaning forward and glancing sideways to the door as though apprehensive of a possible eavesdropper, Klover said in a low voice: "Herr General, I serve—Germany and her people."

Von Wallenfels features remained expressionless. His eyes rested with no trace of curiosity or speculation upon the olive skinned face opposite him. The former prince did not commit himself.... no man could say who was a spy or not. The Gestapo had ears everywhere and mouths to whisper into them.

"I trust, Herr Klover, that your discretion is greater in England than it is here," observed Prince Max with dignified stress.

"I trust so, Herr General," replied the other man with suitable humility beneath the reproof, but satisfied that he had dispelled any small suspicion in the other's mind.

After a moment or so, von Wallenfels stood up and walked across to a huge table on which was spread an enormous map of Great Britain. Stuck into it, here and there, were a number of tiny flags, some scarlet, some blue. He invited Klover to join him. "The red flags," explained the General, "mark the points of attack, the blue, the distributing depots. I have not, as yet, received your report on the roads to be used."

Klover replied, "That is not fully worked out yet."

"But your system of distribution is settled?"

"Practically," nodded Klover. He hesitated, then went on, "I have a suggestion to make, Herr General."

"Your suggestions are welcome," responded Wallenfels approvingly. "What is it?"

"That the commencement of operations be timed differently."

Von Wallenfels stared at him, frowned severely. "How is that possible?" the General asked. "Zero hour depends entirely upon movements in the rest of Europe. Berlin is not concerned alone. We have our glorious allies in the south to consider." He paused on that sentence which had the sound almost of a sneer. "And things are said to look more rosy for us in the east...."

Then he asked quietly, "Your reasons for wishing to alter the time?"

"The I. R. A." replied Klover simply.

General von Wallenfels made a gesture of impatience. "Those wild Irishmen with their noisy little tin-can bombs and cheap alarm clocks! What is in your mind?"

"Only that they might be turned to good account."

"As camouflage?"

"Precisely."

"Hm," Prince Max rubbed his chin and thought deeply. Then he shook his head. "No, no, Klover. When we strike it must be unexpected. Besides you have no means of getting in effective touch with those people."

Siegfried Klover shrugged. "The English have a proverb," he said, "that 'all is grist that comes to the mill,' and another which says 'every little helps.'"

"It is not in the schedule," replied von Wallenfels impatiently, thereby displaying that form of Teutonic mentality which will work brilliantly so long as everything goes according to plan, but which is completely unadaptable to new conditions, if suddenly and unexpectedly presented.

The "W Brigade" schedule — the outbreak of action—had been completed officially. And it could not be altered.... Dire days lay immediately ahead.

Army Man Considered As Baseball's Next High Commissioner

MARSHALL, CHIEF OF STAFF, SEEN AS LIKELY PROSPECT

Subject Comes Up as Minor Leaguers Ask For Part In Selection

(By Associated Press)
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20.—Perhaps it is an extremely long shot, but the next high commissioner of baseball might be General George C. Marshall, the present chief of staff of the expanding United States army.

The question of the next diamond commissioner naturally arose at the meeting of major and minor league magnates here yesterday, when one of the requests made by the minor leaguers was that they be given a chance to help name the eventual successor of the present baseball commissioner, Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

No Rush, However
There is no particular rush to locate a successor to "The Judge," as he still is hale and hearty and playing his daily round of golf over the nearby Belleair course. But there is no harm in reporting that General Marshall made a rapid impression on the baseball colony in a recent one-night stand on the Florida west coast.

Names, unfortunately, cannot be used at the moment but one of the game's top executives said this:

"I couldn't think of a man now who would make such a fine commissioner. He's fairly young and he's a nut about baseball. Of course, it's difficult to say whether he would be interested in such a job—holding the job he does now."

Very Interesting
"Don't worry about that," interjected a member of the party. "Did you ever hear of anybody who wasn't interested in a job at about $75,000 a year?"

The chief of staff, talking to the baseball men, displayed an active interest in their plight.

"Is the draft worrying you?" he asked them. "Are you losing many of your good men?"

"We don't know yet, General," they replied. "But whatever we lose it's okay."

"Well, don't worry about it," said the head of the army to the baseball men. "For whatever men they (meaning the draft board) take away we are going to send a lot of mighty fine men back."

Baseball Briefs from Training Camps

ORLANDO, Fla.—George Archie, the most valuable player in the Pacific Coast league, came to camp expecting to make the Washington Senators squad but made only three hits in six games and unless some other club claims him, is due to be returned to Seattle. Manager Bucky Harris has decided to split the first basing job between Jim Vernon and Jack Sanford.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The Cleveland Indians are ready to forget their doubts about Lefty Al Smith, the 32-year-old National league castoff who was one of their question marks when camp opened. The won 15 and lost 7 last year and has looked good all spring. Yesterday he pitched four innings against Louisville without letting a man reach first.

TAMPA, Fla.—Frank McCormick, first baseman of the Cincinnati Reds who is watching games from the stands for the first time in three years because of an injury, gives his batmen-eye view of a batting slump.

"The biggest reason is that subconsciously a fellow takes his eye off the ball. You get to hitting good and then you begin to anticipate the flight of the ball and lift your eyes before you connect. When I'm hitting good I always see the bat around in front of me. When I'm in a slump, I can't."

LAKELAND, Fla.—Buck Newsom is giving his bit to keep up the Detroit Tigers' morale and keep them hustling for another pennant. He created some commotion yesterday by verbally jumping onto a young pitcher for losing. The other veterans feel the same way.

Clyde "Wink" Miller of the Salem Labels turned in some fancy shooting in his first two games last night in the Pastime circuit at the Grate alleys.

Cracking out a 191 in his first game, Miller really got hot in the second and when the last of the timber had been cleared away, had racked up a nice fat 266, which rates as the Pastime circuit's second high score. Jim Primm holds the record mark of 267.

The fourth-place Labels took two out of three from Tyson's Service but fell one more game farther behind the leaders.

The front-running Firestones were handed three games on a forfeit by Wright's Southpaws while the Citizens Ice and Eaton's Service continued deadlocked for second place, two games behind Firestones.

The Citizens' trounced the Sponseller Masons and Eaton's swept over the Martin Tires. The Citizens' hit a 917 in their last game to chalk up a 2601 total. C. Huffer of Martin's racked up a 215 in his second game.

Hainan's broke even in their night's play, winning three from Loudon's Service and losing three in a postponed match to Albright's Realtors on a forfeit. The Realtors made a clean sweep, whipping the Sohioans three straight in the regularly scheduled match.

The second-place Ohio Edison slipped to two and one-half games behind the first-place Kresges in the Masonic Ladies' loop last night at the Masonic alleys as they won only one out of three from the third-place Salem News while Kresges' were idle, along with Wark's. The News now trail the Edison by only five games.

Mullins edged the Eagles two out of three while the Elks trounced the Bankerettes three straight.

B. Roessler of the Eagles topped the individual scorers last night, hitting a 214 in her first game.

FINALS IN STATE CAGE TOURNAMENT UNDER WAY TODAY

32 Squads In Two Classes Begin Last Lap Of Race For Titles

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, March 20.—Ohio's outstanding high school basketball teams—16 in Class A and 13 in Class B—launch the last lap of the long state championship race today, a jaunt that only two of them can win.

The Class A squad which succeeds the dethroned New Philadelphia squad will be king of 243 teams representing schools boasting 150 or more male students, while the new Class B ruler, replacing New Carlisle, which fell in the qualifiers, will be rated the best of 911 smaller school teams.

Start at Noon

The 32 finalists, survivors of county, sectional and district tournaments which swept 1125 other aspirants aside, will meet today, Friday and Saturday for the championships in the two divisions. Today's Class B contests, starting at 12:30 p. m., were scheduled at Ohio State university's gymnasium with the A contests at the state fairgrounds coliseum. All Friday and Saturday tilts are booked at the coliseum.

Practically all the entrants took an early look at the championship arenas, the two courts having been thrown open for practice from Wednesday noon until noon today.

Along with the championships, the squads have plenty of tournament records as targets. Ed Sadowski of Akron North set the Class A singlegame scoring record in 1935 with 25 against Cochocton, while Lawrenceville's Ronnie Peters topped Class B with a 28-point spree in 1933.

Newark's Buddy Mercer scored 64 points in 1938 for the best Class A all-game mark, four under the 68 which Orlyn Roberts of Waterloo scored in 1934 to lead the Class B contingent. Hamilton's 56-point spurge against Perryburg in 1937 is the highest Class A single game team total, while Waterloo holds the Class B mark with 58 against Chanderlerville in 1934.

On the defensive side the best mark is held by Akron East, which beat Fremont 18 to 9 in 1930. That same year saw Lancaster St. Mary beat Proctorville 34 to 3 for the Class B record.

Several former champs are included in this year's entrants. Zanesville winning the Class A laurels in 1926, Portsmouth in 1931, and Newark in 1936 and 1938. Waterloo, Class B champ in 1934 and 1935, is the lone ex-king returning in the smaller school sector.

Each team in the tournament is limited to 10 players, which means that only 320 of the 25,293 lads who started the season will get a crack at the championship trophies.

For the first time in years, the tournament has no outstanding favorite in either division. In Class A the favored squads are Middletown, Canton McKinley, Newark and Martins Ferry, but all four are in the same half of the draw and only one can reach the finals.

In Class B it looked like a free-for-all race, with some of the squads depending on balance and team play, while others hoped to shake loose high-scoring stars for enough points to win.

Of the five players named to the first team of the Associated Press Class B all-Ohio team, four are in the tournament. Any one is capable of carrying his team a long way, and some fine individual duel are in prospect when the all-Ohio talent tangles.

SETON HILL, L. I. U. WIN TOURNEY GAMES

NEW YORK, March 20.—Seton Hill basketball team, unbeaten in 43 games since 1939, resembles a double barreled shot gun that has been winning target shooting championships on one barrel.

Last night in the National Intercollegiate Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden the Setonians from South Orange, N. J., showed that they hadn't really squeezed their scoring trigger previously and overwhelmed Rhode Island State 10-54 to move into the semi-finals.

Long Island university beat Westminster 48-36 to fill out the bracket along with Ohio university and City College of New York, which had triumphed Tuesday night.

The semi-finals will be played Saturday night and the finals on Monday.

SNEAD LEADING IN NORTH-SOUTH OPEN

PINEHURST, N. C., March 20.—Sammy Snead, who took an 8 on the last hole in the National open two years ago and never has lived it down, seemed in a fair way to beating down his Pinehurst complex today.

Samuel Jackson, went into today's final 36 holes of the 39th annual North-South open golf championship with a four stroke lead. Closest to him was National Open champ Lawson Little at 139, followed by P. G. A. champ Byron Nelson and Clayton Heafner of Louisville, N. Star Timber-Topper at O. S. U.

COLUMBUS. — Not since the halcyon days of Jesse Owens has Larry Snyder, track coach at Ohio State university, been going around with such a broad grin on his face.

The reason for this exhilaration on the part of the Buckeye's popular mentor is his sensational sophomore hurdler—Bob Wright of Huntington, W. Va.

Already, midway in his first year of competition in the big time, Wright has established himself as one of the outstanding timber hoppers in the country and Snyder is very frank in his prediction that if Wright improves as much next year as he has in the last 12 months then he will be the sensation of the country.

Never "Out of Money"
In six appearances prior to March 14 Wright has never been out of the money, setting one new American record and finishing second and third in two other races where new records were established. Aside from his hurdling, he has doubled in the dashes and made a good showing.

Here is Wright's record to date: In his first big time appearance at the Millrose games in Madison Square Garden he finished third in the 60-yard high. Fred Wolcott, formerly of Rice, won the event in the new world record time of 7.2. Fred Dugger of Bates was second by a foot and Wright trailed by another 12 inches. In a dual meet with Indiana the Huntington led won both the highs and lows and then finished second in the 60-yard dash.

Second to Tolmich
Back again to Madison Square Garden Wright finished second to Allen Tolmich of Detroit in the hurdles event at the National AAU Invitational meet. At Ann Arbor in a dual meet with Michigan he repeated his Indiana performance by winning both hurdles and finishing second in the dash to be high point man of the meet.

Rams Sign B-W Stars

CLEVELAND, March 20.—Two of Baldwin-Wallace's outstanding halfbacks in the last three football seasons—George Morris and Woodrow Scoutten—have signed with the Cleveland Rams of the National league. Morris led Ohio scorers in 1939 with 100 points. Scoutten is a blocking back.

PLAN TO INCREASE STATE 'TAKE' FROM BETTING STUDIED

Senate Considers Law To Lift 3 Per Cent Of Racing Wagers

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, March 20.—Legislation intended to triple the state's "take" from horse racing and tighten its regulation of tracks came out of the senate judiciary committee today with a recommendation for passage.

Senator Grant P. Ward (R-Columbus), author of the bill, estimated it should increase the state's racing income to $350,000, as compared with $123,000 last year.

The measure would give the state three per cent of all money wagered. The "cut" is now one to two per cent, but mostly one. Ward said.

Certified public accountants would be appointed as track inspectors, assuring a more accurate checkup on the betting, the senator asserted.

The state racing commission also would appoint a state supervisor of mutuels and put its own representative at the tracks as presiding steward.

Furthermore, the commission could require the tracks to install totalizers, which are mechanical devices for recording wagers. Proponents of the legislation said these devices would insure accurate odds.

Other provisions of the Ward bill are:

The four-man commission must include an owner and breeder of thoroughbreds (running horses) and an owner and breeder of standard-bred harness horses.

Running races may be conducted until 8 p. m. (now 7 p. m.) and may not conflict in dates unless they are 100 miles apart (now 50), and Handbooks instead of mutuels may be used at harness races.

Shepard Downs Leone

AKRON, March 20.—Using a temporary deferment from selective service to advantage, Lee Shepard of Cleveland won a 10 round decision over Pete Leone of Akron in a lightweight boxing bout here last night.

LOUIS AFRAID OF HURTING HANDS

DETROIT, March 20.—Joe Louis has no doubt as to the outcome of his battle with ponderous Abe Simon, set for 20 rounds or less, tomorrow night.

All that is worrying the powerful Negro is how long it will take to explode his 250-pound foe and whether he'll damage his hands in doing it. A damaged hand would be a serious blow to the world's heavyweight champion in his "fight-a-month" campaign. He is scheduled to box Tony Musto in St. Louis April 7 and Billy Conn in New York in June.

Louis promised today to knock out Simon with the first punch if possible.

"NEW, NATURAL MEDICINE BANISHES MANY FORMS OF COMMON SUFFERING"

Taken before meals it mixes with sufferer's food. Removes poisons that foster stomach troubles and brings relief. Wonderful Diuretic for weak kidney and prostate gland, and a stimulant aid to sluggish bile flow from the liver.

"A notable discovery has been made that is bringing happiness to men and women who are suffering the common afflictions caused by deranged stomach, inactive bowels, weak kidneys, prostate trouble and similar disorders."

"It is not a cure all; not a patent medicine, but an Herbal Formula that aids nature. It is bringing relief, helping people on the road to health, who have never been really helped before by any medicine. It is called TON JON 1-2-3 and is now being introduced to crowds daily here by the TON JON Health Representative in person."

HOW IT ACTS

"TON JON cleanses the system of old toxic poisons through its great action upon the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels."

"By natural action on the stomach, it cleans out the deep seated pits of your stomach. It tones up your digestive juices so they will flow properly, making the digestive organs sweet and clean and improve the system in general."

LIVER

TON JON will wake up your lazy liver by increasing the flow of the bile. If this bile is allowed to stagnate, it is often the cause of gallstones, torpid sluggish liver.

KIDNEY

This treatment aids nature by its diuretic actions upon sluggish, weak kidneys flushing out quantities of impurities that may be dammed up inside.

PROSTATE

This medicine is nature's favorite means of correcting prostatitis which affects men of all ages, mostly after forty years.

BOWELS

TON JON will cleanse your bowels (gradually, not drastic or severe) as they were never cleansed before and tones them into a better daily action.

WHAT IS IT?

TON JON is three different medicines—No. 1 White Label, No. 2 Orange Label, No. 3 Green Label, and can be obtained in Regular, Extra Strength, and Double Strength.

WHAT IT WILL DO

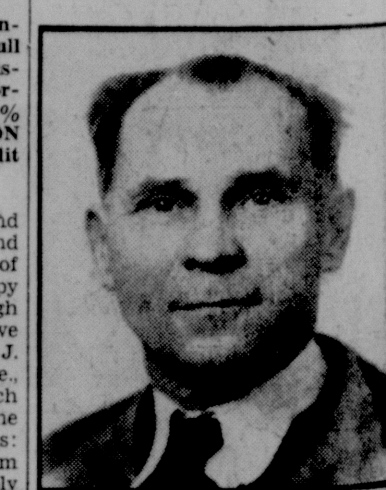

It will quiet your nerves in a herbal way. It will get at the seat of the trouble and make you feel like you have never felt before in your life.

TON JON is now being introduced here in Salem, Ohio, by the TONJON Health Representative, in person, daily at the BROADWAY LEASE DRUG STORE.

Salem Man Didn't Know What Relief Was Until He Tried Ton Jon

Declares that he suffered from constant stomach distress. Dull headaches and extreme nervousness were grievous common torments bothering him. Feels 100% better since taking TON JON and gives it the complete credit for his remarkable benefits.

TONJON is winning more and more friends here in Salem and nearby vicinity and hundreds of sufferers continue to report happy relief from their troubles through TONJON. One of the latest to give his endorsement is Mr. Frank J. Raney of 342 N. Ellsworth Ave., Salem, Ohio, a Catholic Church member and an employee of the Mullins Mfg. Co. Mr. Raney states: "For a long time I suffered from constipation, which was probably due to the fact that I worked on irregular shifts. This kept me feeling bad and caused my stomach to be in a constant upset condition. Gas would form so excessively in my stomach that I was bothered with an annoying shortness of breath. Dull headaches were very common and I was so nervous that I was unable to sleep well. "I tried many different remedies but until I tried TONJON I didn't know what relief was. I can eat heartily of the foods I want without the fear whatever because TON JON has given me complete relief from stomach distress. My bowels are regular. TONJON is a great medicine and I can truthfully say that I feel 100% better in every way since taking it. TONJON gets the complete credit for all my remarkable benefits and I feel sure this grand medicine can help anyone willing to give it a chance."

The praise given above for TON JON is the same praise sung by thousands who find new strength and happiness through these famous new medicines—TONJON 1-2-3. The TON JON Health Representative is daily at the Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.
